DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mizes et al. (U.S. 20050099446 A1).

Mizes et al. discloses a computer-readable product including computer-readable data (fig. 11, element 731) for providing a compensation pattern usable to determine a difference in gray level between an actual gray level value and an intended gray level value at a cross-process-direction image-forming device pixel location in an image formed using an image forming device (the product stores the compensation pattern to be printed to determine a gray level difference). Additionally, the claimed details of the pattern are given little weight and do not substantially affect the claimed computer-readable product. Further, the computer-readable medium is capable of storing the claimed test pattern data (see claim language “for providing”).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1, 3-16, 19 and 21-34 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant argues that claim 17 is allowable by virtue of the allowable subject matter incorporated from claim 2. However, the subject matter of claim 2, as it has been incorporated into claim 17, is given little weight for the reasons provided above. It is suggested that applicant claim a computer-readable product including program instructions for printing a compensation pattern, including instructions for printing a plurality of gray level portions... instructions for printing a first set of alignment marks... instructions for printing a second set of alignment marks, etc. This language would give weight to the allowable language and overcome Mizes et al. See claim 33 for example.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
